Art. 7 of Legislative Decree 196/03 (Right of access to personal data and other rights)

1. The interested party is entitled to get a confirmation whether or not its personal data is in our possession, even if not yet on record and to have such data notified in an intelligible form.
2. The interested party is entitled to get information about:
  - a) the source of the personal data;
  - b) the purposes and procedures of the processing;
  - c) the logic involved in case of processing carried out by electronic tools;
  - d) the identification details of the data controller, data supervisors and the representative designated pursuant to article 5, paragraph 2;
  - e) the persons or categories of persons to whom personal data may be notified or who may learn about such data as representative designated on the national territory, as data supervisors or persons in charge.
3. The interested party is entitled to get:
  - a) that data be updated, rectified or, if it is of interest of the party, supplemented;
  - b) that data be deleted, rendered anonymous, or blocked if data is being processed in breach of law, including data that is not necessary to preserve referring to the purposes for which data has been collected or subsequently processed;
  - c) the certification that the procedures under letters a) and b) have been notified, even as far as their content is concerned, to those to whom data has been notified or disseminated except in the event that such obligation turns out to be impossible or involves the use of means clearly disproportionate to the right being protected.
4. The interested party is entitled to oppose, as a whole or in part,
  - a) for legitimate reasons, processing of its personal data, even if pertaining to the purpose of collection;
  - b) processing of its personal data for the purposes of sending advertising material or direct sale or market research or business communication.
